Location

8:00 am – 5:00 pm

Sponsored By: Host

What is this training about? This course is designed to train and equip participants with the skills necessary to embrace partnerships between tribal and non-tribal entities to promote and develop regional homeland security collaboration. This course offers “hands-on” application and insight into the community’s role and responsibility in managing homeland security and other events of national and domestic significance through an all-hazards approach. Course topics include: Tribal Homeland Security Issues, Understanding Homeland Security Threats to Tribal lands, Defining Vulnerabilities and Identifying Resources, Using the Gap Analysis Process and Identifying Mechanisms for Cooperation (MOU’s), and Group Presentations and Evaluations.

Who should attend? Everyone interested in building tribal partnerships and working collaboratively to develop regional homeland security programs, including: tribal and non-tribal individuals from the following: tribal government, public safety programs, governmental and non-governmental organizations, school and post-secondary education institutions, social service programs, private sector corporations, medical organizations, and community leaders.

Cost: This no-cost training is supported by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, Office of Grants and Training, Grant #2006-GT-T6-K013. Meals and lodging are the responsibility of attendees.
